

Stuart Carmichael BVMS, MVM, DSAO, FRCVS

Stuart Carmichael graduated from University of Glasgow in 1978 and worked within the Surgery Faculty, University of Glasgow as a lecturer in orthopaedic surgery until 1990. During this period, he completed a Masters degree and was successful at obtaining the RCVS Diploma in Small Animal Orthopaedics in 1987, the first RCVS Orthopaedic Diploma to be awarded by examination in UK. He moved to private referral practice in London in 1990 before being appointed as Senior Lecturer and Director of the Queen Mother Hospital for Animals at the Royal Veterinary College from 1991 to 1996. In 1996 he re-joined the Veterinary Faculty at the University of Glasgow, initially as Director of the Small Animal Hospital and Senior Lecturer in Orthopaedics at Glasgow before being appointed as Professor of Veterinary Clinical Studies. He served as Associate Dean for Clinical Studies in the Veterinary Faculty from 2006. In 2009 he joined Vets Now Ltd. as National Hospital Director before moving to Fitzpatrick Referrals in 2012 where he was MD of Fitzpatrick Referrals Oncology and Soft Tissue Ltd. He is Visiting Professor of Veterinary Science at the University of Surrey, Chair of the Board of Trustees of International Cat Care and an RCVS Diplomate and RCVS Specialist in Orthopaedics. He was made a Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons in 2017. He is currently running a Veterinary Professional Consultancy Business, Joint Adventures Ltd. and is also Director and Co-founder of Aim-OA.Sys Ltd., a company which provides a web-based Disease Management Support System for the management of chronic osteoarthritis in dogs.